Response to Amendment

1. Applicant's amendment of March 29, 2004 is acknowledged and entered.
2. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. Claims 1-7, 17, 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
4. Regarding claims 1 and 17, the phrase "optionally" renders the claim indefinite because it is unclear whether the limitation(s) following the phrase are part of the claimed invention. Applicant is required to properly claim the limitation or delete it from the claims. Claims 1 and 17 have not been further examined on their merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Narumiya.

The patent to Narumiya discloses a gas permeable thermal insulator comprising a porous material which is heat-resistant up to 1200 degrees C and has a pore diameter of from 1 to 5 micrometers (Column 10 and Tables 1 and 2). Narumiya does not disclose a reaction tube, however, it has been held that a recitation with respect to the manner in which a claimed apparatus is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from a prior art apparatus satisfying the claimed structural limitations. Since the material disclosed by Narumiya comprises the temperature and pore diameters as recited, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made that the material of Narumiya could be used to make a reaction tube as claimed by the instant invention.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 9-11, 13-16 and 19 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant has not addressed the 35 USC 112 issue presented in the previous office action. The claim must recite actual limitations and not optional limitations. The claim must recite only one of "at the height of the atomization system" and "distributed over the length of the plant" and not one or the other which makes the claim indefinite and is improper. Also, the "gas inlet slots or nozzles" and "in the form of a gas burner" must be properly claimed or these limitations must be deleted from the claim. The optional limitations should be written as dependent claims if Applicant wants to properly claim the limitations. Regarding claim 8, since the prior art discloses a material comprising the claimed limitations, the material of the prior art can be used to make a reaction tube.

Conclusion

8. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
